

OFFICER & EDITORIAL STAFF BIOGRAPHIES

Sayd Hussain is an Environmental Engineering major and Political Science minor in the College of Engineering & Computer Science at Florida Atlantic University and currently serves the Undergraduate Law Journal of FAU as its Editor-in-Chief. Passionate for public service, his previous experiences include interning in Washington, D.C. at an Environmental Nonprofit, Embassy of Guyana, and the White House Administration. He was a previous candidate for the Florida House of Representatives in 2020 and currently serves on the Boca Raton Sustainability Advisory Board. At FAU, Sayd is a former Associate Justice for the Student Government Student Court and currently sits on the student advisory board for the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs. He is currently a candidate for the U.S. Navy Civil Engineering Officer Program.

Kevin Lopez Pelaez is a Psychology major in the College of Science at Florida Atlantic University and currently serves the Undergraduate Law Journal of FAU as its Managing Editor. A public officer of the state of Florida, Kevin also serves the FAU Student Body as the Chief Justice of the Student Government Student Court. With an extensive experience in law firms, Kevin formerly worked as a paralegal and is a student member of the American Bar Association and a Scholar Member of the Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity. He earned his Associate of Arts from Florida Atlantic University and after his baccalaureate studies, he hopes to earn his Master of Public Policy and Law degrees to pursue a career in complex litigation in Washington D.C.

OFFICER & EDITORIAL STAFF BIOGRAPHIES

Zachary Gorlach is a Finance major and Business Law minor in the College of Business at Florida Atlantic University and currently serves the Undergraduate Law Journal of FAU as its Lead Editor. He enjoys legal writing, as well as literature on economics and political economy. Zachary has a particular interest in banking, financial, and securities law.

Kadah Marshall is a Business Management major and Business Law minor in the College of Business at Florida Atlantic University and currently serves the Undergraduate Law Journal of FAU as its Secretary. As a fierce advocate for change, alongside her interests in the legal field, she is proud to be an integral component in the Journal. After receiving her undergraduate degree, Kadah plans on attending law school.

Jaylene Kennedy is a Political Science major and Economics & History minor in the Honors College at Florida Atlantic University and currently serves the Undergraduate Law Journal of FAU as its Treasurer.

Alisha Motiwala is a Psychology major and Business Law minor in the College of Science at Florida Atlantic University and currently serves the Undergraduate Law Journal of FAU as an Associate Editor. Alisha sees life through a “psychological lens”, which has allowed her to recognize the role of human behavior in jurisprudence. She believes that it is imperative to understand the importance of psychology, since human perception is inherently subjective and can influence the interpretation of the law. Alisha hopes to pursue her law degree after her undergraduate studies and work as a human rights lawyer.

OFFICER & EDITORIAL STAFF BIOGRAPHIES

Gianna Matteo is an Interdisciplinary Studies major and Business Law minor in the College of Arts & Letters at Florida Atlantic University and currently serves the Undergraduate Law Journal of FAU as an Associate Editor. With a focus in Political Science, her research interests are driven from current debates and issues within politics and society. Gianna hopes to continue contributing to such areas through writing and volunteer groups. She is currently interning at a law firm and enjoys helping others through legal work. Gianna currently plans to attend law school in Fall 2021 to obtain her law degree and pursue a career as an attorney.

Carisse Joseph is a Management Information Systems major in the College of Business at Florida Atlantic University and currently serves the Undergraduate Law Journal of FAU as an Associate Editor. She is the social media director of the Management Information Systems Association and is also a member of FAU's Student Ambassador Association. After completing her undergraduate studies and graduating from FAU, Carisse plans on pursuing a career in business law.

FACULTY BIOGRAPHIES

Cheryl Arflin, J.D. is on the faculty of the College of Business at Florida Atlantic University and currently serves the Undergraduate Law Journal of FAU as its Advisor. She earned her Bachelor of Science in Mass Communication from the Virginia Commonwealth University and her Juris Doctor from the College of William and Mary. Admitted to the Virginia State Bar and a passionate advocate for legal academia, Professor Arflin is the original founder of the Undergraduate Law Journal of FAU and has been fundamental in the Journal's success and growth since its establishment in 2011. With her decade of distinguished guidance and exceptional dedication to the Journal, she was conferred the lifelong status of Advisor Emerita.

Anthony Horkey, Esq. is a practicing attorney on the faculty of the College of Business at Florida Atlantic University and currently serves the Undergraduate Law Journal of FAU as its Advisor. A life-long Owl, he earned his Bachelor of Arts in Criminal Justice from Florida Atlantic University and went on to receive his Juris Doctor from Nova Southeastern University. Admitted to the U.S. Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals, U.S. District Court – Southern District of Florida, and the Florida Bar, Professor Horkey is also a legal author and has published several intellectual contributions.

Sarah Nielsen, Ed.D. is on the faculty of the College of Business at Florida Atlantic University and currently serves the Undergraduate Law Journal of FAU as an Editing Advisor. She earned her Bachelor of Arts in English, Master of Science in English Education, and Doctor of Education in Curriculum and Instruction all from Florida International University. A proud Owl since 2016, Dr. Nielson is passionate in community partnership among FAU and local employers, actively increasing awareness on the area of Business Communications.

FACULTY BIOGRAPHIES

Dalel Bader, J.D., M.Ed. is an Academic Programs Coordinator under Florida Atlantic University Advising Services and currently serves the Undergraduate Law Journal of FAU as an Editing Advisor and Pre-Law Liaison. She earned her Bachelor of Arts in Political Science from the University of Florida, Master of Education from Florida Atlantic University, and her Juris Doctor from the University of Miami. Admitted to the Florida Bar and passionate in promoting legal work and experience, she is the Co-Founder of Florida Atlantic University's Pre-Law University Services Initiative (PLUS).

Robert Wills, J.D. is on the faculty of the College of Business at Florida Atlantic University and currently serves the Undergraduate Law Journal of FAU as an Editing Advisor. He holds a bachelor's degree and subsequently earned his Juris Doctor from Stetson University. Admitted to the Florida Bar, Professor Wills is passionate on the areas of legal writing and business law.

AUTHOR BIOGRAPHIES

Robert Marriaga is a Political Scientist, Consultant, Adjunct Professor, and a Ph.D. candidate in the School of International & Public Affairs at Florida International University. He holds a B.A. and M.A. in Political Science and specializes in American Government, Constitutional Law, American Foreign Policy, and Latin American Politics. Robert is currently the Legislative Assistant for District 81 in the Florida House of Representatives.

Leaet Gutierrez is a graduate from the College of Arts & Letters at Florida Atlantic University. She earned a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science with a minor in Business Law. Her passion for law began as a ten-year-old, translating for her non-English speaking immediate family. She is currently working on pursuing her legal career. Following law school, Leaet hopes to help non-English speaking families, like hers, resolve their legal disputes.

Michael Dewing is a B.G.S. major and Hospitality minor in the College of Business at Florida Atlantic University. Michael is a proud previously published author in the Undergraduate Law Journal of FAU. A Student Veteran himself, he earned his Associate of Arts in Economics from Broward College and is a leader in the South Florida hospitality scene. Knowledgeable in strategic marketing and business development, Michael also enjoys writing and entrepreneurship.

Jessica Savage is a Political Science major and Philosophy & Business Law minor in the College of Arts & Letters at Florida Atlantic University. Jessica is a proud two-time published author in the Undergraduate Law Journal of FAU. Since Summer 2018, Jessica has been a member of the Student Government House of Representatives, fiercely advocating for the student body. She is a member of FAU's Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity and is also a member of First Gen, an organization where first-generation college students build relationships with each other and network. Jessica has future aspirations to attend law school and hopes to pursue a career in entertainment law or public defense.

AUTHOR BIOGRAPHIES

Hajra Akram is a Criminal Justice major and Political Science minor in the College of Social Work & Criminal Justice at Florida Atlantic University. She has been involved with the New Student Orientation Program as an Orientation Leader, Leon Charney Diplomacy Program as a delegate, UNICEF FAU as a legal advisor, and Soar-in-4 program as a scholar. Hajra strives to create a new precedent for women within her community through the art of law. She is set to complete her undergraduate studies in Summer 2021 and thereafter hopes to pursue a law degree.

Erik Briggs is an International & Global Studies major in the College of Sciences at the University of Central Florida. He has been deployed overseas and currently serves active duty in the United States Air Force as an Explosive Ordnance Disposal (EOD) Technician, stationed in the Republic of Korea since 2018. After separating from the military in 2022, he hopes to graduate and attend law school to pursue a career in international law.

Irene Gatimi is an International Studies & Economics major in the Honors College at Florida Atlantic University. Her interest in international affairs and diplomacy has led her to researching not only international rule of law but also policy implementation in various African and Asian countries. Irene is dedicated to serving the community, both internationally and domestically. After her undergraduate studies, she hopes to be a true change agent and pursue a career in public service that respects her interests in law and international affairs.

Gregory Rodriguez is a Multimedia Journalism major and Sociology minor in the College of Arts & Letters at Florida Atlantic University. He is an Afro-Latinx writer from Illinois and earned his Associate of Arts from Broward College. Gregory sincerely enjoys media, video games, writing, and literature.

AUTHOR BIOGRAPHIES

Ria Mavinkurve is an Economics major and Political Science minor in the College of Humanities, Arts, & Social Sciences at the University of California Riverside. Ria is an environmental legal volunteer with Change the Chamber and an undergraduate research assistant with her university's Department of Political Science. After graduating, Ria hopes to obtain a law degree with a specialization in environmental law.

Taylor Mcgee is a Communications major and Spanish minor in the College of Arts & Letters at Florida Atlantic University. Teylor prides herself in being extremely involved on campus. She currently is the Vice President of Lambda Pi Eta, Vice President of community service and National Ambassador of the National Society of Collegiate Scholars, a member of the Black Student Union, a member of the Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, and a student ambassador in the FAU College of Arts & Letters. After graduation, she plans to attend law school, and pursue a career in law, and hopes to make a difference in the area of civil rights.

Nikolas Rogers is a Political Science & Economics major in the College of Liberal Arts at Pennsylvania State University. Through his interests in politics, law, history, economics, and philosophy, he connected them all and formed a special interest in political and historical philosophy. Nikolas loves being at the forefront of American politics and holds a number of leadership positions with Pennsylvania State University organizations, as well as organizations outside of the university. He hopes to pursue his law degree and Ph.D. after his undergraduate studies to pursue a career as an attorney, professor, and politician.

Published in Boca Raton, Florida
- United States of America -

Copyright © 2021
Undergraduate Law Journal of Florida Atlantic University
A Registered Student Organization at FAU®

· IPSA · SCIENTIA · POTESTAS · EST ·

Copyright © 2021
Undergraduate Law Journal of Florida Atlantic University