3. The elderly and their spatial behavior has become a topic of concern among geographers. See, for example: S. Golant, The Residential Location and Spatial Behavior of the Elderly: A Canadian Example, The University of Chicago, Department of Geography Research Paper no. 143, 1972; S. Golant, Location and Environment of Elderly Population (Washington, D C: V. H. Winston & Sons, 1979); G. Rowles, Prisoners of Space? Exploring the Geographical Experience of Older People (Boulder, Colorado: Westview Press, 1978); R. Wiseman, Spatial Aspects of Aging, Association of American Geographers Resource Paper no. 78-4 (Washington, D C, 1978); and the July, 1980 issue of The Pennsylvania Geographer. The most complete work on elderly travel is: M. Wachs, Transportation for the Elderly (Berkeley, California: University of California Press, 1979).
