
COASTAL PHOTOGRAPH BY OREGON DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

PHOTO 19. Devil's Punchbowl near Newport on the central Oregon coast. This rocky cavern, created by centuries of erosion and constant pounding by the surf, becomes a churning cauldron when waves on the Pacific Ocean are high. Otter Rock, offshore in the background, is a sanctuary for sea birds and sea lions.