
COASTAL PHOTOGRAPH BY CARLOS SCHUBERT

PHOTO 31. The Coastal Range, north-central Venezuela (northeast of Caracas) about 30 km east of the port of La Guaira. The range consists of Mesozoic metamorphic rocks in a tectonic block which is being uplifted by right-lateral displacement along two en echelon faults within the Morón fault zone. Note the erosional bench about 50 m above the road.