Erosion Wave on Fire Island, New York. Aerial photograph, view east of Fire Island, off of the Atlantic Ocean coast on the South Shore of Long Island. An erosion wave is located along this section of shoreline near Water Island. Note the sinuous nature of the shoreline, the symmetry of the feature and the relationship of the offshore sandbar system. The entire erosion feature has been slowly migrating to the west over the past 8 months. (Photograph by Dan Covello, 15 January 1994).
